Yesterday, on 23rd July 2010, Jupiter (Brihaspati) became Vakri (retrograde) in the Jyotish sign of Meen (Pisces). Around the same time Budh has begun its unusually long stay in Simha (Leo) during which it too will get into a retrograde motion for 23 days. In Jyotish, such retrograde motion of two planets at same time is given very high attention and importance.

First, let us take the case of Brihaspati going Vakri. Jupiter has been in transit in Pisces, its own sign, since 2nd May 2010. As it becomes retrograde, its effects on life on Earth increase manifolds but in quite a surprising way. Those who have been experiencing a positive flow of events in life may find the movement stopping or even moving backwards. But, for those who were looking forward to getting the benefits of a strong Jupiter but were devoid of its blessings till now will be pleased to receive the bounties now.

The last two weeks were disturbing for many of us due to the stalling of Jupiter in Pisces before going retrograde. But, now, the speed returns and some important bills and resolutions which are in pipeline in the parliaments will get cleared and new and effective laws will be implemented. Most of such laws will be citizen friendly and for the long term good of all. This will be observed in most of the countries.

At the same time the corrective forces which fight against the injustice and corruption by the people in authority will also become stronger. People's voice will receive a hearing when the deaf ears are pounded open by the strong forces of justice. Jupiter will stay in retrograde motion till 18th November 2010. Its backwards motion will take it back into the sign of Aquarius (Kumbh) on 1st November 2010. It will re-enter Pisces on 6th December 2010.

Now, the case of Budh entering Simha and its subsequent retrogression in this fiery sign. Mercury will go into a forward-backward-forward motion in Leo from 23rd July 2010 to 30th September 2010. It will become retrograde on 21st August 2010 and will become direct on 13th September 2010. Simha is a fixed Jyotish sign ruled by Surya. It has power, dominance, stability and perseverance.

The banking sector, especially the public sector banks, will gain the most from this transit of Budh in Simha. Their stocks will go up. Other finance related sectors too will see a jump in their business. Stock markets will see a stable upward graph during this two and a quarter month long stay of Mercury in Leo. The most gains will be observed between 17th August and 17th September 2010 during which time Budh joins Surya in a powerful Budh-Aditya Yoga.

For India and Indians, this transit will bring new developments in the area of real estate financing. Affordable interest rates and easy availability of home loans will give a boost to the real estate sector. But, some difficulties for the ruling government will come up in form of dissent and lack of support from other parties in the ruling coalition. The government may have to bow before the demands of these dissenting voices to keep the coalition together.

Now, a short look at the effect of the forward-retrograde motion of these two planets on the twelve moon signs and ascendants:
