Today, Mars moved into the fiery sign of Aries which is its own house (Swagraha). As Ketu and Venus are already in transit in Mesh these three planets have now become conjunct. On 14th April 2013 Surya and on 28th April 2013 Budh too will join them in making it a yuti of five planets in Mesh Rashi.

The last time when any of these planets had joined Ketu in Aries was in 1994. On 19th May 1994 when Ketu had entered Aries it had joined Mangal which was already in transit there. But, the yuti of Ketu with Venus, Budh and Surya in Aries could happen only in the subsequent year of 1995. In the last century, Venus, Budh and Surya have been found to be giving company to Ketu a few times in Aries in months April and May and at times Saturn and Jupiter have joined them. This is the first time that Mars is involved in this yuti of multiple planets in Mesh in past hundred years.

Mars-Ketu yuti is a highly explosive one and it usually gives rise to unexpected and severe kinds of violent incidents. The massacre of Nepalese royal family and the 911 incident are a few examples of it. Looking at the combination of planets in Aries and Libra and the war clouds hovering over Korea it can be said that the next forty days of Mars in Aries can trigger some serious man-made and natural calamities for mankind. Mars will leave Aries to enter Taurus on 23rd May 2013.

Such negative conclusions are being made also because Saturn is present with Rahu in Tula and it is now in an opposition (Samsaptak) with the planets in Mesh. Such planetary combinations are powerful enough to cause great changes all over the world. Economic crisis combined with political agendas of developed countries could bring about action or inaction both of which can cause the existing global power balance to change.

Terrorist activities will be at a high. These planetary yogas can bring about such terrorist action and destruction the kind of which world has never seen. These events will be triggers to other events which will finally change the economic policies, governments and political systems all over the world.

Revolts against establishment can take violent turn. Crime against women and sexual crimes will increase. Serious vehicular mishaps especially those involving air crafts are possible. Political leaders will show increase in adamant and autocratic attitude. The true severity of the economic problems and the hidden political agendas of corrupt leaders which have been under wraps till now will be revealed causing more unrest in common people.

The results of these planetary movements in Mesh over the twelve moon signs and ascendants will be as follows:
