

Venus has entered Taurus yesterday. Every two years the most alluring and brightest of planets, Venus, gets into a retrograde movement. During this process of retrogression Shukra ends up staying for unusually longer periods in one or two Jyotish Rashis. This year it will stay for four long months in Vrishabh, its own sign where it becomes a Swagrahi.

Venus came into Taurus (Vrishabh) yesterday, 28th March 2012, and it will leave this sign to enter Gemini (Mithun) Rashi on 31st July 2012. Meanwhile, It will become retrograde in Taurus on 15th May 2012 and it will come back into a direct motion on 27th June 2012.

Shukra's previous prolonged stay in Vrishabh Rashi was from March 28th 2004 to July 31st 2004. But, that year Venus had gone into Gemini on 8th May 2004 before becoming retrograde and coming back into Taurus on 28th May 2004. Shukra's next retrograde movement in Vrishabh will be from 28th March 2020 to 1st August 2020.

As Vrishabh is Shukra's own sign we can expect some good results for those who have Venus as a Yogakarak planet in their horoscopes. But, its benefits will also depend on the placement of Vrishabh rashi in their horoscopes. As during this transit in Taurus Shukra will be constantly in company of Ketu the benefits and harms from this transit will be in extremes.

Ketu is going to be in Taurus till the end of December 2012. Surya will join Venus in Vrishabh from 14th May 2012 to 14th June 2012. A speedy Budh (Mercury) will come into Taurus from 21st May 2012 and will hurriedly leave this sign on 4th June 2012. And, during this four month long transit of Venus in Taurus one more important yuti will be created when Jupiter enters Taurus on 17th May 2012. From there on Brihaspati, Shukra and Ketu will be together till 31st July 2012.

On 6th June 2012 Venus will pass in front of the Sun as it goes retrograde and becomes fully combust. This is the last time in this century that such a phenomenon will be seen. A similar movement took place on 8th June 2004 too when Venus was retrograde in Taurus. Some astrologers have given a negative interpretation of this movement, but it is actually only an astronomical phenomenon which is interesting to the students of astronomy. In Jyotish this movement will be seen simply as a normal combustion of Venus during its retrograde movement and nothing negative or highly positive is associated with it. Its results will depend on the position of planets in an individual's horoscope and the effect of this transit on them.

This transit of Shukra will be beneficial for the automotive industry and some new technologies may be introduced to make the vehicles more comfortable and fuel efficient. This transit will also be good for the industries related to entertainment, apparels, food business, hospitality and travel. There will also be a good increase in demand for real estate which will be for a short term and will again go down after Venus leaves Taurus.

Following will be the results of these interesting transits on the twelve moon signs and ascendants:
