Yesterday, on 6th September 2013, both Venus and Mercury have entered their own houses. Shukra is now in Libra, its swagrah, and is now placed with Rahu and Shani. Budh has entered Kanya Rashi where it is both swagrahi and uccha (exalted). This has brought some relief from the discomforts and difficulties which had arisen due to debilitated state of Venus and Mars in August 2013 though Mars will continue to be in debilitation till 5th October 2013.

Shukra will stay in Tula till 2nd October 2013 and Budh will transit in Kanya till 25th September 2013. In the sign of Libra the combination of Venus, Shani and Rahu and the aspects of Jupiter and Mars on them has now made this airy sign very tumultuous. Most of the action will now be concentrated around the Tula rashi for next three weeks.

The previous transit of Rahu and Venus in Tula Rashi was from 5th October 1995 to 29th October 1995. The previous transit of Saturn and Venus in Libra was from 17th November 2012 to 11th December 2012. But, the last time these three planets came together in Libra was in 1808, from 29th September 1808 to 16th October 1808. We do not have much historical data to study the events during that period. Such a yoga happens on very rare occasions and it will be very interesting for Jyotish students to study the events happening in next three weeks.

These transits of Venus and Mercury this month in their Swagrah Rashis will be good for industries like Information Technology, Telecom, entertainment, film, TV and print media, and fashion. A few films released during this period have chances of achieving unprecedented success. New revolutionary products, facilities and services in Telecom and IT industry may be launched.

These transits are not so good for personal vehicle segment though the public transport segment will benefit from it. At the same time, a few major vehicular mishaps, mainly related to commercial vehicles or public transport, may happen during this period. Those who are eager to buy new vehicles this month are advised not to overlook any flaws and to do a proper research before acquiring a new vehicle. They could end up going back to the dealers due to unexpected troubles with their vehicles.

Crimes against women will become a major concern and some tough laws may be made to prevent and punish such crimes. The political scenario will remain volatile this month too but most interested parties will delay the actual fireworks till the first week of October 2013. But, the common people who are highly affected by the economic and political problems all over the world will come out to show their displeasure in a stronger way.

A few unprecedented man made or natural calamities can happen during this transit causing loss of life and property of the civilian population. For India, the internal security, political dilemmas, economic problems and the border disputes with its neighbours will become bigger worries this month.

For those who are eager to buy new houses or to start living in new residences, this month is a very favorable time for such purposes, although the religious restrictions may not allow everyone to do so. But, do your homework properly before investing your money in real estate. This month some serious malpractices by real estate dealers and builders may come to light.
